Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Art Unit: 2829

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

2. (e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

3. Claims 41, 44-47, 50 and 53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being fully anticipated by Nakata et al.

Element 12 is a board comprising. Element 9 is a substrate on the board. Elements 14 are the contractors. Elements 11 is an anisotropic conductive polymer layer.

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2829

5. Claims 42, 43, 48, 49 and 54-57 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nakata et al in view of Soejima et al.

Nakata et al was discussed above but does not employ a plurality of grooves to improve the flexibility of contact elements. Soejima et al shows grooves or slits 21 to improve the flexibility of contact elements. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have adapted the groove feature of Soejima et al to the apparatus of Nakata et al in order to make the contact elements 14 of Nakata et al more flexible because one of ordinary skill in the art would realize that making the apparatus of Nakata et al more flexible would enable better and more reliable contact to be made.

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 58-60 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nakata et al in view of Igarashi et al.

Nakata et al was discussed above but does not show a test handler. Igarashi et al shows a test handler that enables automatic placement of devices under test. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have adapted the test handler of Igarashi et al to the apparatus of Nakata et al because one skilled in the art would realize that so doing would enable faster and more accurate placement of devices under test.

Art Unit: 2829

8. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the test handler of claims 58-60 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

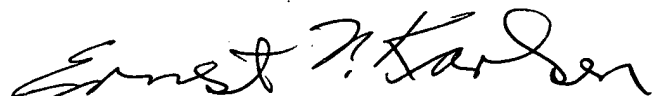

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

9. Claims 21-40, 51, 52 and 61-77 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected inventions/and/or species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in Paper No. 5.

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Suyama et al and Kazama et al are cited to show apparatus similar to that of Nakata et al. Farnworth shows a test handler.
